Digital Pen and Paper Software Leader Adapx Partners with Carahsoft to Enable Easy Government Purchasing Through GSA

SEATTLE, WA, July 23, 2008 - Adapx (www.adapx.com), the company that is changing the way teams collaborate and collect data in the field, today announced that their Capturx™ software solutions for digital pens is now available for government customers to conveniently purchase through GSA schedule number GS-35F-0131R, in partnership with Carahsoft Technology Corp.

“We are pleased to partner with Adapx, one of many In-Q-Tel portfolio companies we represent,” said Craig P. Abod, Carahsoft president. “The firm’s commercial, off-the-shelf Capturx products have a strong track record in providing the federal sector with industry-leading solutions that help teams collect field data and collaborate more effectively.”

Capturx™ software helps teams speed data collection by enabling designs, maps, and forms to be printed on ordinary paper and filled out or marked up with a digital pen, which digitizes the handwriting and integrates the data directly into Microsoft Office and leading GIS and CAD systems.

Deployed by a broad range of federal, state and local agencies, the Capturx™ product line offers the natural advantages of collecting data with pen and paper, without the delays and expense of processing paper or deploying mobile computers. As portable and easy-to-use as pen and paper, Capturx can be used for field data collection where rugged laptops and PDAs aren’t practical – at a fraction of the total cost.

“We’re committed to helping government agencies handle vast amounts of field data important to their operations,” said Ken Schneider, CEO and president of Adapx. “Current customers report that they’ve gained not only a lower total cost of ownership over other data management options, but also immediate returns on investment including high user satisfaction feedback. By making Capturx available on GSA now, federal customers can make best use of year-end funds and plan for deployments in the upcoming new fiscal year.”
