Reston, VA - May 26, 2010 - Carahsoft Technology Corp., the trusted government IT solutions provider, today announced that it has been named to the 2010 Washington Technology Top 100 list of the largest government contractors.

With 2009 prime contract revenue of more than $172 million, Carahsoft ranked #99 on the list, and was the third top revenue producer to debut on the list this year.

"Carahsoft's inclusion on this list is indicative of our company's maturation and our increased focus on supporting Federal customers in conjunction with our manufacturer and consulting partners," said Craig P. Abod, Carahsoft president. "We are honored to be recognized in this way, and are confident our continued success will improve our ranking year-over-year."

The Washington Technology 2010 Top 100 is based on an analysis of data from the Federal Procurement Data System-Next Generation (FPDS-NG). Eagle Eye Publishers analyzes the data according to a set of 702 product service codes that government agencies assign their expenditures of more than $3,000. Intelligence agencies, the U.S. Postal Service, the Federal Aviation Administration and congressional agencies are not required to report their spending to the FPDS-NG.
