

Revere GeoRev™ users are able to gain a broader perspective on annual global revenue generation by seeing where companies sell their goods and services on a country and/or regional basis.

Revere GeoRev™ includes normalized global geographic exposure percentages for all U.S.-traded companies (including ADRs). Revere relies upon company materials and filings as well as research by its own team of analysts in order to provide the most transparent display possible.

Revere GeoRev helps investors capture growth opportunities in foreign markets by identifying companies with significant foreign sales, showing regional and country-by-country revenue levels as disclosed by companies, and analyzing a company's exposure to a variety of risk factors.

Revere GeoRev™ includes the following information:

- Domestic and international sales for all U.S.-traded companies
- Revenue figures classified into more than 70 categories
- Aggregated “super-regions”
- Historical data to 2004
